CANNABIS SALES ENVIRONMENTS: CONSIDERING THE ROLE OF DISPENSARIES AND CONSUMER EDUCATION ON PUBLIC HEALTH IMPACTS OF CANNABIS

FRIDAY, MAR. 12, 2021
Noon - 1 p.m. CST
Live virtual Zoom seminar

Advanced registration required
Click to Register or visit NCWRecovery.org

James E. Lange, Ph.D.

This course is designed for medical professionals, faculty, students and individuals interested in learning about the cannabis policy environment.

GUEST SPEAKER
Dr. Jim Lange holds a faculty position as the coordinator of Alcohol and Other Drug Initiatives within the Well-being and Health Promotion department at San Diego State University’s Division of Student Affairs. He is also currently serving on the Advisory Board for SAMHSA’s Prevention Technology Transfer Center (PTTC) Network Coordination Center.

Lange has authored over 60 scientific publications that have been cited within more than 3,700 publications. He has conducted many trainings and presentations on the topic of cannabis legalization for college campus professionals, and also by invitation across the nation for state university systems and statewide coalitions.

Lange received his undergraduate education at Pitzer College, and his doctorate in Social Psychology from the University of Maryland, College Park.

GUEST SPEAKER
Dr. Jim Lange holds a faculty position as the coordinator of Alcohol and Other Drug Initiatives within the Well-being and Health Promotion department at San Diego State University’s Division of Student Affairs. He is also currently serving on the Advisory Board for SAMHSA’s Prevention Technology Transfer Center (PTTC) Network Coordination Center.

Lange has authored over 60 scientific publications that have been cited within more than 3,700 publications. He has conducted many trainings and presentations on the topic of cannabis legalization for college campus professionals, and also by invitation across the nation for state university systems and statewide coalitions.

Lange received his undergraduate education at Pitzer College, and his doctorate in Social Psychology from the University of Maryland, College Park.

This course is designed for medical professionals, faculty, students and individuals interested in learning about the cannabis policy environment.

DESCRIPTION

GUEST SPEAKER
Dr. Jim Lange holds a faculty position as the coordinator of Alcohol and Other Drug Initiatives within the Well-being and Health Promotion department at San Diego State University’s Division of Student Affairs. He is also currently serving on the Advisory Board for SAMHSA’s Prevention Technology Transfer Center (PTTC) Network Coordination Center.

Lange has authored over 60 scientific publications that have been cited within more than 3,700 publications. He has conducted many trainings and presentations on the topic of cannabis legalization for college campus professionals, and also by invitation across the nation for state university systems and statewide coalitions.

Lange received his undergraduate education at Pitzer College, and his doctorate in Social Psychology from the University of Maryland, College Park.

This course is designed for medical professionals, faculty, students and individuals interested in learning about the cannabis policy environment.

GUEST SPEAKER
Dr. Jim Lange holds a faculty position as the coordinator of Alcohol and Other Drug Initiatives within the Well-being and Health Promotion department at San Diego State University’s Division of Student Affairs. He is also currently serving on the Advisory Board for SAMHSA’s Prevention Technology Transfer Center (PTTC) Network Coordination Center.

Lange has authored over 60 scientific publications that have been cited within more than 3,700 publications. He has conducted many trainings and presentations on the topic of cannabis legalization for college campus professionals, and also by invitation across the nation for state university systems and statewide coalitions.

Lange received his undergraduate education at Pitzer College, and his doctorate in Social Psychology from the University of Maryland, College Park.

This course is designed for medical professionals, faculty, students and individuals interested in learning about the cannabis policy environment.

GUEST SPEAKER
Dr. Jim Lange holds a faculty position as the coordinator of Alcohol and OtherDrug Initiatives within the Well-being and Health Promotion department at San Diego State University’s Division of Student Affairs. He is also currently serving on the Advisory Board for SAMHSA’s Prevention Technology Transfer Center (PTTC) Network Coordination Center.

Lange has authored over 60 scientific publications that have been cited within more than 3,700 publications. He has conducted many trainings and presentations on the topic of cannabis legalization for college campus professionals, and also by invitation across the nation for state university systems and statewide coalitions.

Lange received his undergraduate education at Pitzer College, and his doctorate in Social Psychology from the University of Maryland, College Park.

This course is designed for medical professionals, faculty, students and individuals interested in learning about the cannabis policy environment.

GUEST SPEAKER
Dr. Jim Lange holds a faculty position as the coordinator of Alcohol and Other Drug Initiatives within the Well-being and Health Promotion department at San Diego State University’s Division of Student Affairs. He is also currently serving on the Advisory Board for SAMHSA’s Prevention Technology Transfer Center (PTTC) Network Coordination Center.

Lange has authored over 60 scientifi...