SOFT SKILLS AND THE IMPACT ON MPL | Christine Hoskin, EdD, RN, CPHRM, NPD-BC

Patient satisfaction, patient engagement, and collaborative care have, in many ways, shifted the focus solely from clinicians' knowledge and technical acumen to a broader range of desirable skills — including many soft skills. Emerging evidence also shows that enhancing soft skills can benefit physicians by cultivating better doctor-patient relationships, alleviating burnout and reducing professional liability exposure.

9:00–
10:00 A.M.

PHYSICIAN CONTRACTING ISSUES – EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENTS AND BEYOND

Cori Loomis, JD

Discover the importance of understanding the variety of contracts and agreements available to you as you begin your career. Understand that the contract governs how your money, compensation and time will work with your new job. Knowing the important clauses to review and the right questions to ask will empower you to ensure you start your career with terms you understand and best meet your needs and goals.
