YOUR PAYROLL ADVICE

OSU processes more than 180,000 paychecks to approximately 17,000 individuals each year. Each paycheck requires numerous transactions and calculations which involve earnings, taxes, deductions, and benefits. Although the system provides many checks and balances, errors can occur. Thus, OSU provides Payroll Advices to employees several days ahead of pay dates so employees may review and verify their pay. If a discrepancy is discovered, an employee should notify his or her supervisor immediately to avoid further delays in pay.

TRANSITION TO A PAPERLESS PAYROLL ADVICE

As of July 1, 2005, OSU began processing the Payroll Advice electronically. The paperless form of the Payroll Advice can be found on Banner Self Service. Banner Self Service is a feature of the Human Resource System that allows employees of OSU to view payroll information, leave balances, and other employee information. Enhancements to Banner Self Service are continually being made; therefore, the example on the back of this handout may look somewhat different than the Banner Self Service Pay Stub.

EMAIL NOTIFICATIONS

An email notification will be sent to all employees processed in a payroll calculation. The email will inform the employee that he/she has been included in a particular payroll calculation with a specified issue date. It will also include the net pay along with the check distribution/bank name. A link to Banner Self Service will be provided in the email or employees can access the Banner Self Service Employee Pay Stub directly by logging in at my.okstate.edu.

The email will also contain a section of Notifications and Announcements. This will contain important information about pay and benefits.

ACCESSING BANNER SELF SERVICE

Banner Self Service can be accessed by using an employee's OKEY UserID or email address and password at the OKEY Sign in Service Page.

To access pay information for a particular payroll, double click on the Employee tab, then click on Pay Stub. Select the Pay Stub Year and click on the Display button, then click on the Pay Stub Date.

To view leave information, double click on the Employee tab, then click on Leave Balances. This will provide the employee with a table of annual leave, comp time, sick leave, and extended sick leave balances.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION, UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION AND SOCIAL SECURITY/MEDICARE

Federal and state laws determine the eligibility requirements and the type of coverage for these benefits. Students may be exempt from some benefits.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION

OSU provides Workers' Compensation (WC) coverage for all employees for work-related injuries or illnesses. The coverage provides reasonable and necessary medical treatment and some income replacement. In addition, an injured employee may be entitled to prosthetic devices, physical rehabilitation, vocational rehabilitation, or permanent disability compensation. If the work-related injury or illness causes death, the employee's dependents may be entitled to additional benefits.

Employees shall notify supervisors immediately when a work-related injury or illness occurs so that medical attention may be provided, if needed. Medical treatment will be provided at designated health care providers, when available. University Health Services will provide non-emergency care within the Stillwater area during normal business hours. Supervisors report work-related injuries and illnesses through the OSU WC process as described at hr.okstate.edu/benefits/workcomp. For further information, please contact OSU Human Resources at 405-744-7420.

Employees may use accrued leave for the official waiting period as defined by Oklahoma statute. For injuries or illnesses occurring on or before January 31, 2014, the official waiting period is seven full days of absence, following the date of injury or illness, as required by the treating physician. For injuries or illnesses occurring on or after February 1, 2014, the official waiting period is three full days of absence, following the date of injury or illness, as required by the treating physician. After the waiting period lapses, Broadspire, OSU's third-party administrator, will pay for qualified absences as required by Oklahoma statute. For more information, please refer to the publication Benefits During Absences Due to Workplace Injuries/Illnesses as found at hr.okstate.edu/benefits/workcomp. If the employee does not wish to use his/her leave for the official waiting period (either seven days or three days) or to supplement payment from Broadspire after the waiting period, the employee must provide a written request to his/her supervisor.

Employees on an extended WC leave (full month or longer without pay) should contact Employee Services, 405-744-5449, about benefits. You may qualify for family/medical leave, and those benefits would run concurrently with your WC leave. OSU-paid health coverage will continue during WC leave. Life coverage will continue for no longer than one year unless an ING life waiver is approved due to disability. Employee-paid benefits will be billed through the Bursar's office if there is insufficient pay to take the deductions.

The Oklahoma Workers' Compensation Counselor Program, at 800-522-8210, offers employees free, private counseling concerning work-related injuries or illnesses. This service is offered to provide clear, unbiased answers to sometimes complex WC questions. You may also visit their website at owcc.state.ok.us.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION INSURANCE

The provisions of the Oklahoma Employment Security Act apply to most OSU employees. OSU pays the full cost of these benefits. The Oklahoma Employment Security Commission determines eligibility of a terminated employee for unemployment benefits based upon the circumstances of the termination. For more information review their website at oesc.state.ok.us.

SOCIAL SECURITY/MEDICARE

Both you and OSU contribute to Social Security and Medicare. Benefits provided by Social Security include old age, survivors, and disability insurance and are explained in detail at www.ssa.gov. Medicare benefits include Part A (hospitalization), Part B (medical insurance), and Part D (prescription coverage).

OSU Human Resources developed this information for the convenience of OSU employees. It is a brief interpretation of more detailed and complex materials. If further clarification is needed, the actual law, policy, and contract should be consulted as the authoritative source. OSU continually monitors benefits, policy, and procedures and reserves the right to change, modify, amend, or terminate benefit programs at any time.

EMPLOYEE RIGHTS UNDER THE FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT

THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF LABOR WAGE AND HOUR DIVISION

LEAVE ENTITLEMENTS

Eligible employees who work for a covered employer can take up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave in a 12-month period for the following reasons:

- The birth of a child or placement of a child for adoption or foster care;
- To bond with a child (leave must be taken within one year of the child's birth or placement);
- To care for the employee's spouse, child, or parent who has a qualifying serious health condition;
- For the employee's own qualifying serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the employee's job;
- For qualifying exigencies related to the foreign deployment of a military member who is the employee's spouse, child, or parent.

An eligible employee who is a covered servicemember's spouse, child, parent, or next of kin may also take up to 26 weeks of FMLA leave in a single 12-month period to care for the servicemember with a serious injury or illness.

An employee does not need to use leave in one block. When it is medically necessary or otherwise permitted, employees may take leave intermittently or on a reduced schedule.

Employees may choose, or an employer may require, use of accrued paid leave while taking FMLA leave. If an employee substitutes accrued paid leave for FMLA leave, the employee must comply with the employer's normal paid leave policies.

While employees are on FMLA leave, employers must continue health insurance coverage as if the employees were not on leave.

Upon return from FMLA leave, most employees must be restored to the same job or one nearly identical to it with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms and conditions.

An employer may not interfere with an individual's FMLA rights or retaliate against someone for using or trying to use FMLA leave, opposing any practice made unlawful by the FMLA, or being involved in any proceeding under or related to the FMLA.

An employee who works for a covered employer must meet three criteria in order to be eligible for FMLA leave. The employee must:

- Have worked for the employer for at least 12 months;
- Have at least 1,250 hours of service in the 12 months before taking leave;* and
- Work at a location where the employer has at least 50 employees within 75 miles of the employee's worksite.

*Special "hours of service" requirements apply to airline flight crew employees.

REQUESTING LEAVE

Generally, employees must give 30-days' advance notice of the need for FMLA leave. If it is not possible to give 30-days' notice, an employee must notify the employer as soon as possible and, generally, follow the employer's usual procedures.

Employees do not have to share a medical diagnosis, but must provide enough information to the employer so it can determine if the leave qualifies for FMLA protection. Sufficient information could include informing an employer that the employee is or will be unable to perform his or her job functions, that a family member cannot perform daily activities, or that hospitalization or continuing medical treatment is necessary. Employees must inform the employer if the need for leave is for a reason for which FMLA leave was previously taken or certified.

Employers can require a certification or periodic recertification supporting the need for leave. If the employer determines that the certification is incomplete, it must provide a written notice indicating what additional information is required.

EMPLOYER RESPONSIBILITIES

Once an employer becomes aware that an employee's need for leave is for a reason that may qualify under the FMLA, the employer must notify the employee if he or she is eligible for FMLA leave and, if eligible, must also provide a notice of rights and responsibilities under the FMLA. If the employee is not eligible, the employer must provide a reason for ineligibility.

Employers must notify its employees if leave will be designated as FMLA leave, and if so, how much leave will be designated as FMLA leave.

ENFORCEMENT

Employees may file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division, or may bring a private lawsuit against an employer.

The FMLA does not affect any federal or state law prohibiting discrimination or supersede any state or local law or collective bargaining agreement that provides greater family or medical leave rights.

DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE STATEMENT

TO ALL EMPLOYEES

In accordance with the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988, Oklahoma State University hereby notifies all employees that the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession or use of a controlled substance is prohibited in the workplace. Any employee found to have violated this prohibition may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including dismissal or be required to satisfactorily participate in a drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program as a condition of continued employment. The drug abuse assistance/rehabilitation program shall be one that has been previously approved for such purposes by federal, state, or local health, law enforcement or other appropriate agency. The imposition of such disciplinary action or requirement to satisfactorily participate in a drug abuse assistance/rehabilitation program is premised solely upon a violation of this prohibition and does not require a criminal conviction.

As a condition of employment at Oklahoma State University, all employees will:

1. Comply with the terms of this statement; and
2. Notify the University (through either their immediate supervisor, other supervisory administrator or project director) of any criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace in writing no later than five days after such conviction.

Such conviction may, of course, result in the employee being disciplined or required to satisfactorily participate in a drug abuse assistance/rehabilitation program as specified above. Failure of an employee to report his/her conviction, as required herein, constitutes grounds for dismissal.

As a further requirement of the Drug-Free Workplace Act, the University has established a drug-free awareness program for the purpose of informing employees about the dangers of drug abuse in the workplace, the University's prohibition of controlled substances in and on OSU property, any available drug counseling, rehabilitation and employee assistance programs, and the penalties that may be imposed for drug abuse violations. An Employee Assistance Program has been created in furtherance of the drug-free awareness program. Information about the drug-free awareness program and the Employee Assistance Program may be obtained from University Counseling Services.

Reference is made to Policy and Procedures Letter 1-1205 and the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 as sources of information and clarification.

If you authorize us to use or disclose your health information, you have the right to revoke the authorization at any time. For information about how to authorize us to use or disclose your health information, or about how to revoke an authorization, contact the person listed under "Whom to Contact" at the end of this notice. You may not revoke an authorization for us to use and disclose your information to the extent that we have taken action in reliance on the authorization.

If the authorization is to permit disclosure of your information to an insurance company, as a condition of obtaining coverage, other laws may allow the insurer to continue to use your information to contest claims or your coverage, even after you have revoked the authorization.

This right is limited to information about you that is kept in records that are used to make decisions about you. For instance, this includes medical and billing records.
